

Amazing!!! That is the only way I can describe my experience with House of High fidelity.

I have been the proud owner of an NAD 7100 AM/FM Stereo Receiver for many years.

20+ years ago I took it to a repair shop because one set of my speakers stopped working, but they had no idea what to do.

On Christmas Day 2014 the entire system stopped. I was unable to get radio, CD, Tape or anything to work. In a panic, I called the NAD technical staff, and was put through a battery of tests. Together we exhausted all the possibilities.

The verdict – it was dead! I called several online high-end dealers and described what was happening to their technical staff. I was given the same grim diagnosis. My NAD was dead and gone.

Then, I found House of High Fidelity on Google. I took it in simply for confirmation of what all the “experts” had concluded. I was going to have to spend at least $1200 to try to replace my NAD.

In nothing short of a miracle, after leaving it at House of High Fidelity, their technician - more like a wizard – completely cured the NAD at a very nominal cost.

It not only works, but all the speakers and all my components that have not worked for years are up and running.

I was in complete shock! None of the experts thought there was any hope, but instead I have a completely functioning system – at a nominal cost.

All I can add is that if you have a high-end system, or want any advice on the subject, you have to visit House of High Fidelity.

They truly understand High Fidelity and have managed to do what no one else thought was possible, or even understood. They did it with apparent ease, and they are right here in Naples Florida. Kudos to House of High Fidelity!
